The 2012 Caribbean Regatta Season Starts Here!

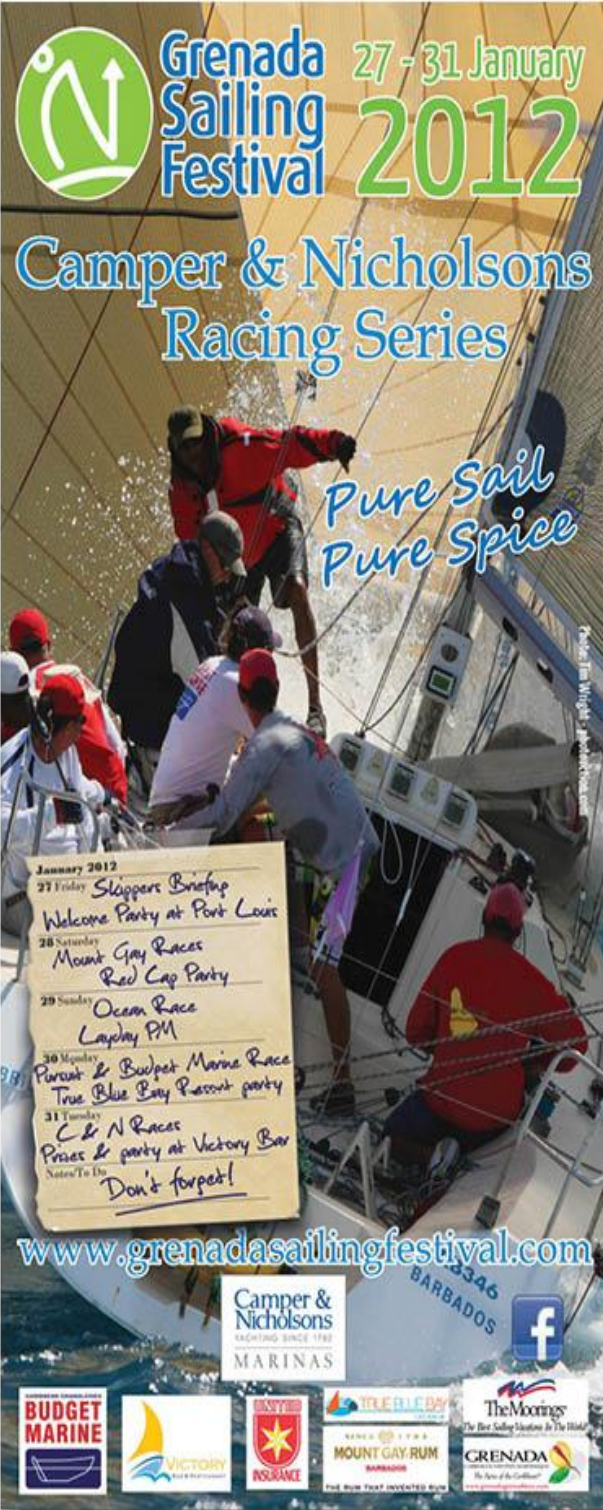

Start the Caribbean Regatta Season in Grenada at the Grenada Sailing Festival Camper & Nicholson's Racing Series, which will be taking place from Friday 27 January to Tuesday 31 January 2012. This popular event will be based at Camper & Nicholson's Port Louis Marina, Grenada's newest international class marina, and will provide challenging top quality racing plus an early Regatta Season 'Tune-Up' to the international yachts visiting the Caribbean for the winter and the highly competitive crews based in the Region.

Racing will start and finish at Port Louis, and the courses will be concentrated on the island's southern and eastern coasts, some of the most exciting and challenging sailing waters in the Caribbean. Already the event is attracting interest and entries from a wide range of well known racers on the Caribbean regatta circuit, including 2011 Festival Winner Peter Morris with his yacht Jaguar, plus some new names too. Entries can be made direct online by going to www.yachtscoring.com

There is much more to this Festival of Sailing than just on the water action – experience the warm & friendly island hospitality at dockside Happy Hour BBQs and dance and dine at great After Race Parties at the Victory Bar, the lively and fun Restaurant right in the heart of Port Louis Marina.
